HORRIBLE ATROCITIES.

Catalogue of Brutalities Imposed upon Convicts of the Milwaukee, Wis., House of Correction.

Milwaukee, Oct. 22.—The Sentinel of to-morrow morning will contain an account of terrible atrocities in the Milwaukee house of correction. This institution is used at the option of the court as a state prison. An ex-convict, just released, whose character and veracity is vouched for by prominent citizens, states that he was an inmate for a year, and in all that time was not allowed to write to his friends, his counsel or relatives, who supposed him dead. He says the bread furnished convicts for which the county pays $6 per barrel is damaged and cannot be baked, and the beef putrid. During his confinement, he says, dogs and glandered horses were used as meat, and he brings the evidence in possession of the editor of the Sentinel. The details of the feed are beyond expression. Of the brutalities of the keepers, he says that the convicts were stripped and put in a black hole, which was a dog kennel, five feet four inches by [illegible], and cannot lie at length in it. It had no means of ventilation, and the floor was filled with ordure. Men were placed there for days, and two died. A chair [illegible] connected with the institution; [illegible] also that the police are in collusion with the superintendent to kidnap [illegible] at chairs. The whole story is most startling and revolting ever published in this country, and it is claimed that [illegible] can all be verified

For the third or fourth time the soundness of his views against inflation do [illegible] have been demonstrated. He is for [illegible] the 25th, and his friends in Delaware have propose a rousing reception. The Largest Week's Business ever Reported

The New York Public's Regular Statement of the Value of Transactions in the Large Cities—Pertinent Comment

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN

New York Oct [illegible].—The [illegible] clearing house exchanges give [illegible] surpassing in rapidity of increase that [illegible] other week for six year and probably for a much longer time [illegible] a sufficient answer to all doubts as to the solidity and reality of the improvement in business Only two cities out of 13 show any decrease in the amount of exchanges Six cities [illegible] them several of the largest show gains of more than 50 per cent The increase at New York is in part due to speculative operations both in stocks and in grain but the increase at other cities is large enough and general enough to remove all doubt as to the character of the movement [illegible] week's table to be published [illegible] shows the following losses San Francisco 25 10 Syracuse 16 1 All others are gains as follows New York 84 8 Boston 11 1 Philadelphia 5 0 Chicago 53 5 Baltimore 36 4 Cincinnati 20 8 St Louis 17 2 Milwaukee 55 4 New Orleans 66 4 Louisville 37 8 Pittsburg 29 5 Providence 1 1 Kansas City 41 6 Cleveland 35 3 Indianapolis [illegible] New Haven 16 8 Lowell 27 9

The Public thus comments Looking at the startling increase in the volume of business at some cities one is tempted to ask if the corresponding advance in the price of stocks and bonds of important railroads is after all wholly unreasonable If the traffic of Milwaukee for example is 55 4 per cent larger in the aggregate than that of last year would it not be strange if there was not a similar increases in value of roads by which the traffic of that city is mainly carried on? The increase here, exclusive of exchanges arising from stock operations is about 5 4 per cent. San Francisco is a point of exceptionally slender exchanges and the depression there is due to local and well known causes We believe the aggregate of exchanges has never exceeded $1 000 000 000 in any previous week since the clearing houses were organized and the aggregate for any other week It is not strange that men in every branch of trade and manufactures are encouraged and confident when there is indisputable proof that such marvelous improvement in almost every part of the country has already followed a return to specie payments. The aggregate total business transactions for the week is $1 03 000 000 against $610 000 000 for the corresponding week of last year San Francisco business this week aggregates a little over $1 000,000 against $24 000 000 last year

The Kilkenny Fight in New York

From the N Y Express Kelly's organ]

But between two evils Cornell or Robinson, we choose the former as the least of the two for Robinson is the blind obstinate willing tool of Samuel J Tilden the worst and most dangerous man in American politics a man whose touch is corruption and whose slimy trail polutes every place he has been in The success of the republican party would be unfortunate but the success of Tildenism would be a public calamity The republican party is at least respectable Tildenism is infamous

Ohio and Thurman

The latest from the Ohio election says that returns from 84 counties give Foster 110 plurality and that the other counties will make it 20 000 A further dispatch says

Sherman's friends regard the result of the election in Ohio as a great step towards his nomination for the presidency Foster is an anti Grant man His great success has given the republicans confidence This at least is the opinion of prominent republicans who say that so long as it is clear that the republicans can elect anybody they will no longer think of Grant

Pleasantry, Perhaps

New Orleans Oct 18.—The Picayune says it is an open secret that the republican party has resolved once more to carry Louisiana The central men in Washington have already sent orders over the wires Their party managers here were instructed to nominate white men of respectability and of unblemished records and of conservative repute Money is to be supplied from headquarters In short they are going to ask us to choose between good republicans and bad democrats

Thurman Accused of Treachery

New York Oct 18.—News comes from Ohio that Ewing men will certainly expose the duplicity and treachery of leading men of the Thurman faction It is openly charged that under the lead of John G Thompson Thurman managers arranged in a number of counties a general exchange of votes for governor in return for republican support of such democratic candidates for the legislature as were supposed to be friendly to Thurman

Zach Chandler's Views

New York Oct [illegible].—Chandler, in his speech at Flushing [illegible] yesterday said I look back over the whole field the greatest mistake we ever made was in not hanging enough of those rebels to make treason forever odious Also I do think you have in New York in the person of Samuel J Tilden the greatest fraud on the face of the earth

TOO MUCH OIL

A SHAMEFUL AND AWFUL WASTE OF AMERICAN RICHES

[From the Philadelphia Press

Just at the present time there is a stagnation in the oil trade that has its effect in every line of business in the oil region The pipe lines declare their inability to manage the great volume of oil that is daily brought to the surface In consequence the tanks at many of the wells are full and overflowing and the great illuminator of the world is running down the hillsides and through the valleys of McKean county to waste at the rate of from 1000 to 5000 barrels per day In parts of the region, in order to dispose of the dangerously combustible fluid brooks and streams in the valley are dammed and the oil accumulated in a body on the surface of the water A number of men then gather about to prevent the fire from communicating with the wells and buildings in proximity and the oil is set ablaze The fires are usually made in the day time so as not to alarm the community with a vast fire during the night Occasionally the pools of oil take fire by accident and are sometimes lighted by malicious persons A number of derricks and tanks of oil have been burned along the lines of narrow gauge railroads which pass through the actively developed portion of the field The fires were created by sparks from locomotives In several instances, I understand persons who have sustained loss in this way have proceeded against the railroad company for damages The causes of the oil backing up in such immense quantities in the producing region are attributed to the excess of the supply over the demand, primarily and the lack of facilities for transportation and tankage by the pipe line companies At the present time the United and Tidewater pipe companies have about 3 000 000 barrels capacity of iron tankage in this district attached to the lines and it is claimed that this is most entirely occupied Iron tankage connected with the pipe lines is owned largely by individuals and oil producing companies Of course to the extent of their tankage the pipe companies take care of oil belonging to the owners of these tanks The producers who are losing oil are generally the smaller ones who cannot afford to build tankage The general storage capacity of the pipe companies is proportioned out to the latter producers But as already stated these tanks are about full It now becomes necessary for producers to do something effective to check production

Signs of Coming Sense,

[Vicksburg, Miss, Herald Dem]

Congressman Singleton used one or two expressions in his speech that will with other facts aid to illustrate the power of party influence. He said that the northern democratic party was the only barrier between us and our enemies And he reminded his hearers that they could not so soon forget the time when they were manacled as to desert the democratic standard If these assertions are true one will be struck with the frailness of the barrier between us and our enemies for the northern democratic party is about as weak a barrier as the south could rely on It is growing small and beautifully less In Maine and California it is a third rate party and our friends are very uneasy about Ohio and New York It is by no means certain that we now have a majority even in Indiana But we cannot trust very hopefully in Mr Singleton's barrier—that is if the northern people are our enemies to the extent that they will manacle us as soon as they outvote the northern democrats From the drift of things we may as well make up our minds to have gyves on our wrists by next year at the farthest We have alluded to these expressions of the gentleman's speech to show how hurtful extravagance As a matter of fact the northern people are not our enemies The are with some exceptions our friends They prove their kindly feeling for us whenever we get in distress They proved it last year by sending us millions of money to relieve our sick and poor and they have aided up this year Party slavery as exacting as it is should not have caused so well informed a gentleman as Mr Singleton to make use of such language And it is unfortunate for the south that many of her extreme men persist in educating the people in the belief that an antagonism exists between the north and south It does not exist except between the extreme men The great mass of conservative people in both sections regard each other as friends and desire to co-operate for the good of the whole country How hurtful it is then for our extreme men to attempt to foster distrust and ill will Such actions injure us fully as much as the slanders of the extreme men of the North

The Campaign in New York

New York Oct 14.—The Times comes out decidedly this morning almost for the first time for the republican ticket saying We have already called attention to the great importance of a decided victory for the republican party in this state—a victory not for the head of the state ticket alone or even for the whole of the state ticket but for this and for the legislative candidates as well We are not willing to concede that the election this fall derives its importance solely from national issues on the contrary we are firmly convinced that it is a matter of grave concern to the people of this state that the administration of the state government should be placed in the hands of the republican party rather than in those of the democratic

Great Attraction at Mechanics' Pavilion—Everybody Wants to See It

The Blacksmith's Dream is creating a decided [illegible] at the pavilion It is a marvelous piece of mechanism It has been visited by thousands of admiring spectators in Australia New Zealand and the Canadas as we [illegible] in this country, and all express unbounded surprise at the wonderful ingenuity displayed in the invention of such a vast and beautiful mechanical structure. Do not fail to see it

Ex Doorkeeper Fitzhugh probably begins to feel that he is not so great a man as old Grant after all He has shrunk to the proportions of doorkeeper of the lower house of the Texas legislature

THE CAPTURED INDIANS

A Dirty Ragged Murderous Lot of Snakes Rejoicing in Eastern Oregon and Idaho Over Lieut Farrow's Success

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

[illegible] The Indian prisoners [illegible] captured in the [illegible] arrived [illegible] There [illegible] under the guard of five [illegible] in charge of Lieut Farrow They are a dirty ragged [illegible] who were the terror of the Weiser and the [illegible] country last fall [illegible] Bannock Indians [illegible] supposed to have been [illegible] called [illegible] Snakes

These Indians fought and defeated Lieut Catley [illegible] and captured a portion of his pack train When surprised by Lieut Farrow [illegible] were [illegible] and finding themselves fully surrounded sent a white flag and surrendered The flag of truce they have kept on their long and weary march and at every camp raised it evidently thinking it protected them

They camped on the banks of the Columbia waiting for the morning's boat, the white rag on a long slender pole floating above those who are a ragged dirty remnant of a tribe once the terror of the Idahoan

Too much credit cannot be given to the gallant lieutenant and his brave band of guides and scouts who almost starved worn and ragged still followed the Indian trail until after various skirmishes a complete success rewarded their tireless efforts

We in eastern Oregon and Idaho say a hearty amen to the departure of these Indians to Vancouver in the morning and may they never return

WHAT BECOMES OF FOREIGN GOLD

[From the Philadelphia Times]

A gold coin is worth its value the world over said an official at the mint yesterday But sovereigns and napoleons do not circulate in this country What then becomes of them after they get here?

If any one were to ask this question in the assayer's department of the mint they would be apt to receive information that might slightly surprise them

Come in here said the mint official yesterday leading the way into a little strong walled chamber, without a single window in it looking much, in the dim light of the gas like an enlarged edition of a safe There were hundreds of chunks of smooth bright yellow metal piled up on half a dozen small trucks These chunks varied in size One might be lifted with one hand Another would require two hands Others could not be lifted at all

There said the official, placing one of the latter into the visitor's hand, lift that It was lifted accordingly It was a good lift too There are about $5 000 in that piece said the official Move that truck once he said with a sly expression of countenance

The most vigorous effort that could be mustered up failed to make it budge Upon it lay seventy or eighty of those shining chunks of metal

There are about $2 000 000 worth of gold in what you see here—yes over two million These have been chiefly English sovereigns and French napoleons They came here from the government assay office in New York where they are melted up Exporters receive them you see in payment for goods and send them to brokers, who in turn send them to the assay office where they get American gold coin for them

Further talk showed that the government is accommodating enough to exchange for the foreign moneys either American coin or gold "bricks," or gold in whatever shape the owner of the coin might desire Of course this has nothing to do with the transactions of the American exporter, who wants what he can make immediately available to the wants of his business—the gold dollar

All the foreign coin thus received in New York—or the bulk of it—goes to the assayer's office there for exchange. Here the clock work method that characterizes all the government departments steps in Not a single foreign coin of all the millions that go there yearly is passed or paid for until its value is ascertained To do this involves some work Weight and quality are the things sought It is first weighed then put in a pot and melted Sometimes the pot absorbs some of it and then it has to be broken up and melted itself If there is even so little as an eighth of an ounce absorbed the pot must be broken and that precious morsel eliminated from it After it is melted it is weighed again Allowance is made for the slight loss it must necessarily sustain in passing through the crucible and with this allowance it must exactly compare with its original weight as a coin After its value is thus ascertained the broker or whoever brought it there receives its equivalent in American gold or gold in any other shape he may wish

Another consideration obtains in the melting up process and this is to make sure that no counterfeit coin shall be palmed off on the government Rarely does this occur in the case of gold coin for the reason that the brokers and others who bring them there are generally expert in detecting counterfeits themselves but in the silver Mexican dollar it frequently happens more so probably than in any other coin of its denomination

Tilden's Physical Breaking Up

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune]

Pittsburg Oct [illegible].—From time to time within the past two or three years reports concerning the precarious condition of the Hon S J Tilden's health have been put in circulation They were generally contradicted by his friends who maintained that Mr Tilden's physical status was as good as could be expected of a man of his age, that his mind was as bright as ever and that he bid fair to retain possession of all his faculties for many years to come. A prominent banker of Cadiz Ohio who was in New York a few days ago visited Mr Tilden and had a long conversation with him The banker says that Mr Tilden seems to be breaking up and is very feeble He is paralyzed in the left side of his face and cannot open his left eye He is stumbling in his gait and seems scarcely able to lift his feet The banker has known Mr Tilden intimately for many years and he says that there has been a great change for the worse in Mr Tilden within a short time Another gentleman a prominent business man of this city who talked with Mr Tilden last week says that his opinion of Mr Tilden's condition coincides with the above.

Mrs Scott Siddons Obtains a Divorce

Mrs Scott Siddons has obtained a decree of separation by mutual consent from her husband in England The Springfield Republican apparently speaking on authority says editorially on the subject

Mrs Scott Siddons sailed from Liverpool Saturday for her last visit to this country [illegible] many years as she now purposes After the season here she will go to Australia next April and to India the country of her birth [illegible] the following October [illegible] return to England April 1881 [illegible] personal friends [illegible] that [illegible] ever regarded this lady with peculiar interest and favor will be concerned to know that a separation by mutual consent has been decided between herself and her husband during her summer stay in England It has been a very painful trial to Mrs Scott Siddons but the sympathy with which she has been followed will be sure to [illegible] the inevitable character of this [illegible] the [illegible] of the development through his own [illegible] of a [illegible] and kindly nature Mr Scott Siddons [illegible] the entire possession of the property in New Zealand and Mrs Siddons [illegible] life over again with a largely reduced fortune but with a brave heart and talents ripened by growth and culture Mrs Siddons will be accompanied on her present visit to America by her cousin and namesake Mary Siddons daughter of Mrs Siddons.

THE SCHEME OF THE SOLID SOUTH.

The article from the Nation on "The Moral of the Chisholm Trial," which we print in another place, contains much that is judicious and sound, yet at the same time it carries, inferentially, much that in itself deserves criticism. In the last paragraph a picture is presented of the peculiar "civilization" of the south, as manifested in the way of enforcing justice in that section, which picture clearly is a true one. At the same time it is also unquestionably true that the south, needing reformation, cannot be reformed altogether from without. The work must be effected within. And yet it is proper for the better civilization of the north to express its disapproval of the southern system which the Nation describes, and not to apologize for it and thus encourage it as the Nation virtually does. We can see nothing in the description given by that journal of the state of southern society or, (to use its own word) "civilization," which presents itself as an argument for allowing the south to rule the country. On the contrary the south governed by the "depraved public sentiment" of which the Nation speaks, and wielded in solid strength and with perfect harmony of purpose in accord with its "civilization," becomes so formidable a political force that the north may well have apprehensions of danger, and may well object to the preponderance which it threatens of southern influence in the government. Since the south is "solid" on the basis described by the Nation, it is both natural and inevitable that the north should become solid against it.

Now the policy of non-interference by the general government in the southern states is not a mistake. Our system requires it, and President Hayes could take no other course. The states have both the citizen and the general government at a great disadvantage. No crime committed against citizens or classes of citizens in any state can be redressed by the national government. The perpetrators may take shelter behind state laws and local public opinion, and defy punishment. It therefore happens that though the national government has full power over the life, liberty and property of the citizen, though it can press him into the army and make him sacrifice his life in its defense, it is nevertheless totally without power to protect him against state injustice and oppression. That such a system is, to this extent, a miserably fraudulent thing, every candid citizen must admit; but it is our system nevertheless, and its conditions must be obeyed. This is the justification of the policy pursued by President Hayes. Nobody proposes direct interference with the internal affairs of the southern states. But it is necessary to teach them that their scheme of violence shall not rule the country; and they will give it up just so soon as they find that a solid south will not accomplish what they have in view. To convince them of this is what creates the necessity for northern combination.

In the Nation's article there is much implied reproach of negro suffrage. It is too late now to take a stand on the old color prejudice. The negro has a right to vote; his right is established in the national constitution, and there it will remain, even though it cannot for reasons above stated be now enforced. And his right is fully as good as that of the white man, north or south; nor is there any proof that he is not about as well qualified to exercise it with an intelligent judgment as a majority of the whites by whom he is surrounded. Of course there is in the southern states a deep prejudice against him as a voter on account of his color. But the great source of opposition to him as a voter is in the fact that in nine cases out of ten he is a republican. Negro rule, so-called, is not so much dreaded as republican rule is hated; and this is shown by the fact that in the south the white republican is far more detested than the black. Before the black man was a voter the white republican could only find safety in the south by holding his peace, and not always by that expedient.

The main objection to the Nation's article is its covert assertion of the right of the southern whites to suppress the colored vote, together with a covert denial of the right of the people of the north to protest against it. It would be less matter if the results of this system of political intolerance and wrong affected only the south. But it affects the whole country. It has put the whole power of congress in the hands of the representatives of this southern despotism. Caucus rules the democratic party, and the south rules the caucus. Gen. Woodford was, we believe, entirely right in saying that a republican victory was needed in 1880 to convince the southern democrats that their scheme of holding a united south on the issues of race and white rule, and of making such united south the main instrument of power for obtaining full possession of the national government, could not win. When the purpose for which the south has been made solid is abandoned as impracticable, political crimes like the murder of the Chisholms and the acquittal of murderers will cease. But it does not appear that northern surrender to this southern system and the schemes that support it is called for by any principle of justice or patriotism; nor do the people think so, as the verdict they have pronounced in recent elections very plainly indicates. The country is not going to check these wrongs and abuses by giving way to them. The outrages perpetrated to obtain control of the government would be renewed and redoubled in the effort to hold it.

POLITICAL RETRIBUTION.

Having so decisive a majority in the legislature of Ohio one of the first acts of the republicans of that state will doubtless be to destroy the gerrymander of congressional districts which the democratic legislature of last year enacted. The gerrymander was a most shameful one. It was intended to give the republicans but four of the twenty congressmen; and in those four districts, formed without regard to geographical outline, were all the localities which in the previous election had thrown heavy republican majorities. The plan did not yield all the results expected from it, for the reason that the republicans made heavy gains and carried several districts which the democrats thought they had secured to themselves by a sufficient margin in the gerrymander. Yet though the republicans had a majority in the state the democrats got eleven congressmen to their nine. Had it not been for this gerrymander the democrats would not now control the house of representatives. The districts will be rearranged before the next election of representatives in congress, and as a consequence the democrats will lose and the republicans will gain about six members from Ohio alone.

The democratic managers in Ohio have acted in all other matters on the same principle as in this gerrymander of congressional districts. The last legislature spent two long sessions in fixing up political jobs. An Ohio letter to the New York Times gives a long account of these proceedings. When republicans were elected to office in the larger cities the offices were promptly "reorganized," that is, the men who had been elected were arbitrarily legislated out. The city of Cincinnati afforded some rather noticeable examples of this kind of work. B. W. Hoffman, republican city auditor, sought re-election [illegible] by an overwhelming vote. He straitway repaired to Columbus and presented his case. The democratic majority passed a bill "reorganizing" the office and placing the appointment of city auditor in the hands of the board of public works. The board of public works was democratic, and in accordance with a previous arrangement appointed Hoffman for a term of four years. At the spring election the people chose a republican in place of the retiring member of this board a democrat. This destroyed the democratic majority, and made necessary, for party reasons the destruction of the board. Mr. Hoffman was the agent selected by the party for the work. He went to Columbus again, and in a short time the board of public works, the most valuable board in the city and the one which had perpetuated Mr. Hoffman's official career, was a thing of the past. This is only one of a large number of similar cases in which every principle of republican government was outraged in order to help petty partisan schemes. This legislature held on for 297 days, defying the popular will, adding to the burdens of local taxation, whitewashing official criminals, undermining the public institutions, refusing to provide in any way for portions of the public debt coming due, refusing to investigate crying scandals in the state institutions growing out of partisan reorganization schemes, and mismanaging every department of state affairs, until it became like a hideous nightmare on the people.

A legislature has now been chosen which contains eight republican majority in the senate and twenty seven in the house, nearly every close county being carried against the democrats. Only from those counties which contained very large democratic majorities could that party elect members of the legislature after its record of the last two years. These are facts here which should be a warning that nothing is gained by resorting to dishonest expedients in politics, or by pressing an advantage in the hope of retaining power, regardless of right or justice.

AN UNFAITHFUL OFFICIAL.

The action taken by Judge Harding at Salem on Tuesday in relation to District Attorney Whitney was highly proper. Whitney's neglect of his official duty deserves just such attention as Judge Harding gave it. When a man whose official duty it is to take the part of the state against its plunderers refuses to act, evidently intending to obstruct the methods appointed by law to enable the state to recover great sums of money out of which it has been swindled, he no longer deserves considerate treatment. When the official or the man who would screen plunderers is put in the same category with the plunderers themselves, the public judgment simply assigns him to his proper place and company.

There is proof enough of the robberies committed under the last state administration. These proofs have been published. Let it be remembered that the investigation which discovered them did not owe its origin to partisan spirit, nor was the report made up to serve any partisan end. The legislature which ordered the investigation through a committee, after it had itself unearthed some of the corrupt transactions of the officials, had a majority in both branches of members who were of the same political party with the delinquents, and a majority of the committee of investigation were men of like political affiliations. This committee found an infamous record of peculation and corruption. But the district attorney has refused to take the action directed by law, apparently for no other reason than that the plunderers are "members of the party." He wants to whitewash them rather than push a legal investigation of their acts and recover to the state what they grabbed out of its treasury.

It appears, therefore, that District Attorney Whitney holds his first duty to be that of a partisan. His official duty is relegated to the second, third or some still lower place. Under these circumstances the remarks of Judge Harding concerning his dereliction were highly proper. The district attorney, in attempting to screen the plunderers of the Grover-Chadwick administration, has undertaken a job that will overwhelm him.

The Chicago Times characterizes the massacre at White river agency as a very direct consequence of the sentimental mode of civilizing barbarians. The outbreak was a revolt on their part against romantic efforts to civilize them; for civilization is based on labor, and the noble Utes indignantly repudiated the suggestion that they must work. It has not been shown that the Indians had any real grievance. They were simply ferocious wild animals, in dealing with which all sentimental and romantic notions ought to be discarded. They should not be petted and coddled, but force should be applied with steady pressure. Government should stop all nonsense and make them work or starve; and if they starve, each one will leave room for a hundred civilized people.

The great men of England are "on the stump," as we should call it in America, appealing to the country for the coming parliamentary elections. Lord Salisbury recently made a speech at Manchester in which he argued that success of the opposition would be accepted by Europe as a sign that the work of the present ministry was to be undone, and that the interests of the empire and not of a party are therefore at issue. It is a favorite expedient with politicians everywhere to represent the cause of their party as the cause of their country, and the opposition as the country's enemies. Politicians in England usually have a more sober and less sensational way of putting things than is the fashion of politicians with us; but at last it comes to pretty much the same thing.

Our eccentric friend, G. W. Lawson, of Salem, has come out "solid" for Grant for the presidency. He publishes in the Statesman a long article, the tendency of which is that in his opinion the Grant boom will drown the roar of all other booms. The south, he says, would prefer to surrender to Grant rather than to any hostile stalwart of a solid north, and as for the leaders of the northern democracy, they are "all wounded unto death by the double-barreled shot-guns of Barksdale and Gully, which not only killed Dixon and Chisholm, but, converted into Gatling guns, have been turned with dreadful effect on the northern democracy." Lawson is "unanimous" in this business, as he always is on anything when he starts in.

English journals report that the Duke of Beaufort who returned home recently from America has published his observations on the American wheat prospect. He thinks that the surplus for exportation will increase yearly, and that wheat may be landed at Liverpool from the interior of America at an average of $1 per bushel, with which price English farmers cannot compete. They must turn their attention to cheaper and better modes of growing beef and mutton, so as not to be driven out of the market also by America. The duke is a large landowner, and his opinion is considered to have great weight in England.

Speaking of the movement of gold to America, the London Daily News says: "If gold continues to leave England and France as it has lately, it will soon become necessary to consider the possibility of measures to stop the outflow. It will be time for England to consider what action to take when the French authorities make a move by directly or indirectly raising the premium on gold to such a point that the whole weight of the United States demand is thrown on this country."

Edison, the inventor, has sent an agent to the Pacific coast with instructions to visit the gold mines in search of platinum. He was at Oroville, Cal., recently. Platinum is nearly always found in black sand which carries gold. From what he has already seen Edison's agent believes that it can be obtained in sufficient quantities to answer the new demand. He had collected specimens of black sand which assayed as high as $800 worth of platinum to the ton.

There is some reason to doubt whether the claim of the Tilden-Robinson committee of fifty thousand majority in New York is well founded. The statement of this committee, telegraphed to-day, looks considerably like an effort to counteract the John Kelly claim, telegraphed yesterday, that the contest was between himself and Cornell, and that Robinson was out of the fight.

The estimates of the amounts that will be required for all branches of the postal service for the next fiscal year have been completed. They aggregate $39,920,000, against which it is estimated the postal revenues will amount to $42,210,000, leaving a deficit of $7,710,000 to be met by congressional appropriations.

At the Oakland terminus of the Central Pacific railroad a solid embankment of rock and earth is being substituted for the long line of piling stretching out into the deep water of the bay. About one thousand yards of rock and an equal amount of earth are dumped in each day. To finish the work will require from two to four years.

CITY.

[illegible] BY DROWNING.—Yesterday forenoon the sad news reached this city that Mrs. E. A. Grey, wife of Mr. Erastus Grey of M[illegible], had committed suicide by drowning at an early hour yesterday morning. Mrs. Grey had been in poor health for some time before the melancholy occurrence. She became impressed with the idea that her ailment was incurable and the thought so preyed upon her mind that it is believed it resulted in the partial dethronement of reason. At times the lady's spirits seemed [illegible] depressed, and her mind became [illegible]. Her mental condition was the [illegible] of much concern to her husband and [illegible], however, no apprehensions were felt of her making an attempt against her life. [illegible] 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning [illegible] from her bed and left the room. [illegible] returning, her husband became alarmed and search was instituted for the missing [illegible]. The search was unavailing, and was [illegible] until daylight. As soon as [illegible] appeared, tracks were discovered leading from the house toward the mill pond situated a short distance away. Very soon after the lifeless body of Mrs. Grey was found in the pond into which she evidently [illegible] herself while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity. Where the body was [illegible] the water is about four feet deep, [illegible] were grasping some drift-wood [illegible] had floated within reach during her [illegible] and was held with the clutch of [illegible]. The deceased was a very estimable [illegible] esteemed by all who knew her and her [illegible] has cast a gloom over the community in which she has so long resided. THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

SECOND DAY

Large Attendance—Many New Exhibits—A Great Improvement in Arrangement—Description of some of the Displays

Mechanics Fair Pavilion last night presented the appearance of a complete well arranged exhibition. All day yesterday the finishing touches to the different exhibits were made, some were rearranged and others added to. The principal addition to the display was that of furniture which nearly fills the entire north gallery. The exhibits in this line are arranged with special good taste, are by far the finest ever made in this state and reflect great credit on Portland manufacturers and dealers. The attendance was large and agreeable surprise was expressed by all hands at the extent, the splendid arrangement and the beauty of the displays. The following is a partial description of the exhibits on main floor:

F. [illegible] & CO

show cans of ground and green Java Mocha Costa Rica and Rio coffees, all kinds of ground spices, chocolate and baking powder, etc.

[illegible]

Show an immense variety of lamps and chandeliers, glassware, china and ironstone ware, crockery, casters and plated ware.

B. I. STONE

Shows one of his largest cases containing a solid silver salad dish, punch set with six goblets, a magnificent epergne, a silver fruit stand of entirely new pattern, having two Egyptian figures on pedestals holding a basket, a tea set of six pieces each of different pattern from the other, and numerous smaller pieces; also the finest carving set ever seen here. He also shows near the fountain an upright case containing a triple epergne, beautiful opera glasses, card cases, etc.

F. I. NORTHRUP & CO

Have a big display of wheels mounted on the celebrated Colling's improved coil spring axle, a tall stack of hubs, buggy beds, and an immense variety of carriage hardware.

[illegible] & CO

Exhibit what with truth might be termed a small drug store. They have a double upright and horizontal case well filled with fine fancy toilet articles. Some of the dressing cases are exquisitely beautiful. Back of the case are filled drug bottles, flavoring extracts, brushes, Turkish towels and a pyramid of fruit wax.

THE CAPITAL LEATHER AND MANUFACTURING CO

Of Salem have a large octagonal rack completely covered with harness, saddles, collars, bridles, saddle trees and leather, all excellent specimens of the products of Oregon.

HODGE, DAVIS & CO

Have an upright case containing chemicals, another containing artists materials, another containing perfumery in cut glass bottles, a full line of fluid extracts of their own manufacture, flavoring extracts, a sample board of McKinstry's fire and water proof paints, mixed paints, oils and varnishes, paint brushes, lubricating and burning oils, and last but not least, the Oregon Kidney Tea.

C. T. BELCHER & CO

Have one of the finest displays in the pavilion, or strictly speaking two exhibits. Their main stand contains lamps and chandeliers, French cut glass ware, French China flower pots adorned with gilt, majolica ware, bronze vases and figures, iridescent Bohemian glassware, patent tubular lanterns, the best of the kind ever invented, and Queen's patent transparent oil can, for which they are sole agents. Some of the stand lamps are marvels of beauty.

In an upright case Messrs Belcher & Co show French China decorated and gold band sets, choice silver-plated ware, Bohemian and French vases, two handsome Italian marble wall reliefs, a rich French decorated China toilet set, and some fine cutlery.

GENERAL NOTES

Excellent music is furnished every evening by the Washington Guard Band under the leadership of Mr. Peterson. The following is the programme for to night:

1—Grand March
2—Adante and Allegro
3—Soldaten Polka
4—Selections from Martha.
5—Garibaldi War Galop
6—Hoffnung Strahlen Waltz

Mr L. Samuels, publisher of the West Shore, got out the first number of the Portland Mechanics' Fair yesterday afternoon. It is a bright little sheet.

The managers have wisely concluded to check canes, umbrellas and parasols free of charge.

A SUGGESTION.

THE OREGONIAN suggests that each of the musical firms exhibiting in the pavilion give a vocal and instrumental soiree on alternate afternoons, say from 2 to 3 o'clock. Enough local talent could be secured at a slight expense to make such concerts interesting and they would help to advertise the firms. At the Centennial Exhibition the afternoon concerts by Philadelphia local talent formed one of the attractive features in the main building, and always drew crowds about the displays of exhibitors under whose auspices the concerts were given.

DIED AMONG STRANGERS

An Unknown Steerage Passenger on the "State of California" Falls into an Epileptic Fit and Expires

At eleven o'clock last night while a part of the steerage passengers on the State of California were eating a lunch one of their number fell forward on his face, and after a few gasps died. He was a stranger to all on board and as the tickets had been taken up his identity could not be ascertained.

Dr H. Petre, of Steuben county, Indiana, who occupied a state-room with the man, gave an OREGONIAN reporter the following information concerning the dead passenger. He was quite conversant on the passage, stated that he was from Folsom, Cal., that he had been mining in Australia for 18 years, and that he was going to work near Portland. The dead man was about forty years old, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, had blue eyes, short moustache and full dark beard, dark hair, prominent cheek bones and clear skin. He wore light brown overalls, dark brown duck flannel lined coat and a blue flannel shirt.

Coroner Cooke was summoned and to accommodate the principal witnesses who leave for eastern Oregon this morning, proceeded to hold an inquest, which is in session as we go to press.

WALTER BROTHERS.

Their Removal to more Commodious Quarters—A Fine Store and Large Stock of Splendid Goods—The Place to Buy on the Best Terms—Carpets, Curtains, Lambrequins, Etc., Etc.

The growth of the country and the advancement of its people in wealth and civilization is judged correctly by the enlargement of the mercantile establishments which supply the demands for the necessaries and luxuries of a high state of civilization. The early furniture which was used in the cabins of the pioneers and the bar [illegible] with which they were content with the [illegible] has grown a part of the item of a luxury residence only in a country highly favored with the resources of progress and wealth. The palatial residences that adorn city and country are indicative of the progress which has been made; the furnishment of these residences betoken a growth in refinement and the use of the luxuries which are only seen in highly favored countries. The adornment of their homes is a characteristic of our people and they who furnish the means of doing so at the least cost are deserving of special notice.

WALTER BROTHERS

Have been so long in the carpet, house furnishing and upholstery business in Oregon and goods from their establishment are found in so many homes in our state that it seems superfluous to speak of them as we would of new comers or strangers. For several years they have stood in the lead as dealers in carpets, curtains, paper hangings, etc., and by their superior relations to eastern manufacturers and dealers as well as strict integrity and close attention to business have built up a very large trade, supplying not only the residences of many of the people directly but doing a

WHOLESALE BUSINESS

Which has grown into proportions beyond that of any other house in the northwest, and to meet the demands of which now requires the extended preparations which we propose to notice. Their facilities for buying of the manufacturers and eastern houses are such that they are able to supply this trade at the lowest possible rates and the merchant from the interior who desire any goods in their line will find that their stock kept constantly on hand will afford the amplest opportunities for selections both as to quality and prices of goods. Their

SPLENDID STORE,

Now just occupied which has been fitted up expressly to accommodate their large business, is one of the finest and most commodious as well as the largest north of San Francisco, being equal to any in that city in most of its appointments. It is situated in the new Union, formerly Oro Fino block, west side of First street between Stark and Oak, in the heart of the business portion of the city and convenient of access from the leading hotels, depots and steamer landings. It is in fact on one of the best business sites for their trade which could have been selected in Portland.

THE FIRST FLOOR.

The show windows on either side of the main entrance are sure to attract the attention of passers by by the beautiful and rich goods which are displayed in them to such advantage. Entering the visitor will find upon the right hand a large and varied assortment of upholstering goods of every quality, embracing hair cloths, chintz, reps, raw silks, plushes and satins for coverings for furniture to suit the humblest or the most aristocratic tastes. Their stock of fringes, gimps, cords, tassels, tacks, castors, etc., is also extensive and of every quality required to meet the growing wants of their large trade. In the rear on this floor is a large stock of oil cloths, cocoa matting, China matting and mats of all qualities. On the left and in the center is by far the most extensive assortment of wall decorations, wall paper, etc., which can be found in the city, comprising every article in this line which is or can be required in house furnishing.

A SPACIOUS BALCONY

Extends around this room, which is 40x100 feet dimensions, and affords access to the uppermost shelves. The shelving is constructed so as to hold and show the goods to the best possible advantage.

THE STAIRWAY

Leading to the second floor is elaborately constructed, and elegantly finished, the newel posts and bannisters being inlaid hard wood and carved in the most beautiful manner. The steps are broad and ascend so gradually that one reaches the floor above without any perceptible effort.

THE SECOND FLOOR

Is 50x120 feet in dimensions and is the largest sales and store room devoted to such purposes on the Pacific coast. On this floor is stored and exhibited an immense stock of carpets, wide oil cloths, lace curtains, crumb cloths, stair rods, cornice mouldings and like fixtures. Their carpets embrace all qualities and patterns made at the best manufactories and from the most durable and strongest hemp to the finest velvet. On all sides this large room contains tons of carpeting, ingrains of all qualities, three ply, tapestry and body Brussels with beautiful border to match, Axminster and Moquette. The fine selection of Turkish hand made mats found here are novel and beautiful. No matter how humble or how palatial may be the home of the customer the wherewithal can be found here to furnish it in keeping with his circumstances and calling. The goods are fresh, all from leading factories and of the latest styles.

WORK ROOM

Adjoining their carpet room on the second floor is a commodious and well lighted work shop where competent workmen fit and sew carpets for retail buyers, as well as make up the elegant lambrequins, valiances, etc., for which this city furnishes a large demand.

THE OFFICE

Which is situated in the rear on the first floor is particularly well adapted to the purpose, being convenient of access, well lighted and ventilated and commanding a full view of the entire room below as well as the stairway and part of the upper room.

Altogether the whole establishment is one showing taste and skill as well as great experience in all its designs and appointments, and indicates the permanence and growth of this reliable old firm. People who visit Portland will be losing a sight well worth seeing if they neglect to inspect this establishment and those who desire to purchase need go no further in search of better goods, more accommodating dealers or more reasonable terms.

THE COURTS.

Chew Venable & Co.'s Red Tag Tobacco.

For Dyspepsia, Damiana Bitters. Fleckenstein & Mayer are sole agents.

Ladies and children's cloaks, dolmans and circulars at P. E. Brigham's, First street, next to Ladd & Tilton's Bank.

Nabob Whisky is recommended by the faculty for family and medical use. It is pure and is the best whisky on the Pacific coast for indigestion, nervousness and dyspepsia.

I. G. Davidson does not mislead the public by giving out worthless cards promising to make $6 worth of photo work for $5, but simply charges $2 50 per dozen for cards and $4 for cabinets.

"Miss Millie Chrissy," the two headed lady, is a perfect little gem, or gems, or a gem and a half, we don't know which. She sings in one or two voices very sweetly, and in dancing we never saw any one more graceful.

DOORS, BLINDS, PAINTS.—Coggins & Beach are clearing out their present stock slightly damaged by water at a small advance on cost and are rushing it off to make room for new goods to arrive shortly. Dealers should buy at the low prices.

There are a lot of people in Portland as elsewhere always ready to strain at the smallest gnat and swallow the biggest camel, who will doubtless put the "two headed Nightingale" down as outside the pale of ordinary humanity. If this prejudice should carry any so far as to lead them to avoid her, they alone will be the losers.

D. W. Prentice & Co. have just received the last invoice of a new and select stock of sheet music, comprising the latest and best music from large publishers both in Europe and this country. This, together with their already large stock, gives them by far the largest selection in that line ever brought to this city.

FINNEN'S HAVANA CIGAR STORE

Has the largest and best selected stock of cigars in the city, comprising New York, Key West and Imported Havanas. Call and be convinced that you can get a better article for a less price than at any other store in the city. No. 15 First st., near Alder. Sole Agents for the Celebrated Keabs and [illegible] New York Cigars.

YOUNG LADIES

Young ladies and married women suffering from irregularities accompanied with those fearful bilious headaches, loss of appetite, and general debility, can be cured by using a few bottles of Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier.

FALSE IMPRESSION

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia cannot invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, &c. Out of the 50,000 dozen bottles sold last year not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by Hodge, Davis & Co.

HAYES H. & L. TRUCK AND FIRE ESCAPE.

At a m[illegible] Vigilance Hook and Lad[illegible] a committee consist[illegible] Wm. Fundheim and [illegible] [illegible] a petition [illegible] [illegible] asking that [illegible] a Hayes hook and ladder [illegible] committee [illegible] was presented at [illegible] [illegible] taken from the [illegible] [illegible] the Vigilant [illegible] [illegible] when [illegible] and [illegible]. It has [illegible] great [illegible] [illegible] men to the ladders. That [illegible] building [illegible] commencing [illegible] third story [illegible] to combat the [illegible] far burned down as [illegible] buildings of this city [illegible] even [illegible] height. The Hayes truck [illegible] constructed that [illegible] number of firemen [illegible] water on them [illegible] can be raised any height of [illegible] feet in one minute alongside of [illegible] moved with ease and [illegible] without stopping the water. By means of this [illegible] water can be poured upon the fire at its most dangerous points. Water can be thrown through upper doors or windows and admittance can be obtained for firemen to upper stories [illegible] with safe and expeditious means of escape in case of overwhelming danger. Often before a fire has spread to any considerable extent it might be easily put out if only the firemen could reach the particular locality. * * * It is believed that two additional steam fire engines would not add so much to the efficiency of the fire department as one Hayes hook and ladder truck and fire escape combined, and yet the latter costs less than one ordinary steam fire engine. * * * As near as can be estimated the cost of a Hayes ladder apparatus complete will not exceed $[illegible]. Probably our present hook and ladder truck and appliances which cost about $1500 may be sold for service in some of the smaller cities. * * * Our company at present has a full roll of members and a complete organization and by its promptness heretofore in cases of fire establishes its claims to your favorable consideration to purchase for the use of a Hayes hook and ladder truck and their fire escape combined.

The petition was read and referred to the committee on fire and water.

On November 1st I will remove my large stock of Steinway Pianos and Burdett Organs, etc., to No. 1[illegible]3 First street in Odd Fellows Temple, and will be glad to meet my old friends and patrons in more spacious and elegant wareroom. ALBERT KARTSCH.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES

Mr Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox, government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few if any pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler, or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

NEUSTADTER BROS.

NOMINATION FOR CHIEF ENGINEER.

W. H. ANDRUS, OF NO. 1.

HALL OF WILLAMETTE ENGINE CO. NO. 1, PORTLAND, OGN., Oct. [illegible] 1879.

AT A REGULAR MEETING OF WILLAMETTE Engine Company No. 1, held at their hall on Thursday evening, [illegible] 1879, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Sound judgment and deliberate conduct in the active discharge of his duties are the pre-eminent requisites of [illegible] the head officer of a live and efficient fire [illegible]; and

WHEREAS, A fireman [illegible] years active service possessing such marks of ability, who has served for nearly [illegible] years as chairman of the committee of the common council having control of matters relating to the efficiency of the Portland Fire Department, is well worthy of the confidence and support of all firemen as a man who would ably and faithfully discharge the duties of chief engineer and successfully lead and direct the department in times of activity and critical service; therefore

Resolved, That Willamette Engine Co. No. 1 esteems Mr. W. H. BEERBOHM

Who He Is—Some Information for the Uninitiated

Chicago [illegible] Beerbohm [illegible] ation with the [illegible] sequently with [illegible] which the speculator and [illegible] has come to be a sort of oracle [illegible] mysterious and sometimes [illegible] ous in its utterances as that of the [illegible]

To the uninitiated who may ask, "What is Beerbohm?" we answer that he is the man in London who sends [illegible] Stock Telegraph company [illegible] daily London [illegible] which are forwarded to Chicago [illegible] up on change every morning [illegible] their influence—be the same [illegible] upon the breadstuffs market of Chicago and consequently upon the whole commercial world within the reach of telegraph wires.

Beerbohm has been the subject of such an amount of denunciation and cursory remarks from the Chicago Board of Trade men that if he could hear them he would be appalled. The great point of these denunciations for years past has been the apparent discrepancies between his report of the [illegible] of the London market and his quotations in figures of the price of grain. As for instance on Sept. 25th it was known that the Pall Mall Gazette of that day said:

The wheat market has been excited during the past two days and there has been considerable speculation. The best foreign kinds have advanced nearly two shillings per quarter since Monday.

And yet there was nothing in the figures given for wheat in the Beerbohm dispatches of any of those three days that would indicate such a condition of the London markets. And yet the English have so many queer ways of doing things that probably there is an excuse even for Beerbohm. A Chicago gentleman who has just returned from London hunted him up. It was no easy task for even to the English grain traders in that market, Beerbohm's personality and whereabouts were almost as mysterious as to the American trader. But he did find him a man well on in years a thoroughly conservative gentleman who never could be made to see any other price than that which was paid for wheat right under his nose. The great trouble seems to be, first, that there is no system in the grain trade in London as there is in the United States. There are no standards of inspection, no standard grades and no uniform price, even for the same quality of grain at the same hour of the same day. Everything is sold by sample and the sample which suits one buyer may not suit another. The same article looks different to different eyes. Some buyers are more experienced and better judges of the article than others. The effect is the same as if every dealer on the Chicago board of trade should be his own inspector. The net result of all this is that there is a great discrepancy in prices. Beerbohm is to some extent compelled to strike an average. If he does this his prices show none of the extremes of the market and even though the market might be excited his figures would show but little change in prices. The lack of any established grades also compels him to include the whole range of qualities from what will barely pass as No 3 spring up to what is the best No 2 spring under the general head of "American spring."

Some four years ago the dissatisfaction of the Chicago board of trade with the Beerbohm quotations was so great that they perfected an arrangement with Mr H Kains Jackson to send quotations in place of those of Beerbohm. But Mr Jackson made even a worse muddle of it than Beerbohm. The fault seems to be not so much with these reporters of the market as with the unsystematic way of doing business in London.

The local markets exhibit no particularly new or interesting features. Wheat is coming forward as rapidly as the various facilities for transportation will allow, and buyers are taking quite readily all good shipping lots that offer. Prices are about as at last report with no further indications of weakening than were noted yesterday. There is some discrepancy in the quotations which one who is not a seller gets as they are generally more or less prompted if not made by the interests of those who give them. Fair lots of shipping are generally, however, conceded to be worth on the wharf here $1 95 per cental. Under some circumstances buyers might bid up 1@2½ cts, while under others the same amount less would be offered. Ships at hand and having quick dispatch, and the fleet under charter at hand will be nearly cut by the first of next month. The freight market is reported as still advancing and there is but little disposition shown to take up vessels at the high figure asked.

Produce other than wheat, of a seasonable character, are generally plentiful and prices steady with a duller tendency in oats, potatoes and ripe fruits, and a brisk inquiry for choice dairy products, hops and salmon.

Extracts from Testimonials to Professor John Murphy

Mr John Murphy has been resident assistant master in this institution for several years. He was transferred to my charge in August 1868 with an excellent character. I have found Mr Murphy faithful, diligent, painstaking and efficient as a teacher in Latin, Greek and Mathematics. I have found him a man of the most scrupulous integrity, of most affable intercourse [illegible] and Christian principle and I shall always rejoiced to hear of his prosperity, etc.

KING OF THE BLOOD

THE MOST THOROUGH PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD YET DISCOVERED

Cures all Humors, from a Common Eruption to the Worst Scrofula

It purifies the Blood
It invigorates the Liver
It regulates the Bowels
It strengthens the Stomach.

It gives vivacity in place of lassitude, cheerfulness in place of gloom and robust vigor in place of debility.

Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Disordered Liver, Constipation, Nervous Affections, General Debility, in short all the numerous diseases and discomforts caused by impure blood are speedily conquered by this powerful corrector, the chief and sovereign of all ancient or modern medical discoveries—KING OF THE BLOOD.

ITS NAME IS ITS BEST DESCRIPTION, as it is a royal dispenser of the blessings of health and vanquishes the foes that lurk in the blood.

It banishes PIMPLES, SALT RHEUM, SCALY ERUPTIONS, ULCERS, SCALD HEAD, FEVER SORES and all SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

It checks CONSUMPTION in its early stages.
It has frequently cured it when advanced.
It disperses TUMORS and CANCERS without the Surgeon's knife.
It cures DROPSY, general or partial.
It cures FEMALE WEAKNESS and DISEASE.
It reduces in a safe and effectual manner all swellings, external or internal.
It eradicates the effects of Mineral Poisons and establishes a sound constitution.

Many certificates and further information and full directions for using will be found in the pamphlet, Treatise on Diseases of the Blood, in which each bottle is enclosed.

Price $1 per bottle containing 12 ounces or 40 to 50 doses. Sold by Dealers in medicine.
